Preface:

This book, Adventures in Language – Prep, is the second of a series of pre-school language books, which aims to develop among our young learners the techniques and skills of communication in our second language—English.

It is based on the Integrated Approach of Early Childhood Education and revolves around the child's immediate environment—himself, his family, his school, and his community.

The activities are presented in such a way that learning becomes fun, challenging, and suited to the needs of the children. Logical sequence of activities and learning experiences are demonstrated and are followed by exercises and skill practices to reinforce and enhance the lessons presented.

It is fervently hoped that this book, together with the teacher's creativity, resourcefulness, and the passion for young learners, be of great help in teaching-learning situation towards quality education.
